Tobacco Planters of Prince Edward Adopt Strong Resolutions.

Tobacco planters in Virginia are dis-Tobacco planters in Virginia are distributed by the fear that they may find themselves next seson in a position similar to that of the cotton growers of the South-Innense quantities of tobacco on hand and no sale for it.

The Tobacco Growers' Association of Lockett' District, Prince Edward county, on February 18th, adopted the following resolutions:

on February 18th, adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the vituation that now confronts the tobacco growers of our contry is one of grave importance, in view of the fact that advice is being given the farmers at large to plant a full crop of tobacco for the year 106; therefore, "Resolved, first, That this advice is injurious and damaging to the best interests of our country, and feeling that such a step would place us in the same condition of the cotton planters of the South; therefore, "Resolved, second, That we reduce our crop of tobacco for the present year (1905) at loast twenty-five per cent, and that a committee of three or five be appointed in each sub-association to circulate these vesolutions and solicit the signature of every grower of tobacco, both white and colored, and that a committee be appointed to consult the commission men in each locality and ask their co-operation in the movement.

THE PRODUCE MARKET.

Increased Demand and Larger Receipts Make Business Active.

Receipts Make Business Active. There was much better feeling on Cary Street among the wholesale produce men yesterday than had been noticeable at any time since the big freeze. The demand for goods in their lines was better, receipts were larger and there was a general air of more cheerfulness.

Receipts of green truck, lettuce, cabbage, kule, tomatoes and other early vegetables, from Florida points were larger and the demand for them was quite lively. All of the frost bitten fruits from the 'Flowery Kingdom' had been cleaned up and room made for the better goods. Oranges just from Florida were plentiful, but the market was not crowded and the commission merchants were smalled to unload at satisfactory Jures. Virginia produce continues scarce because of heavy roads, but receipts were somewhat larger than for several days and dealers were able to meet the increased demand at good paying prices. Fowls, eggs and fresh country butter are stin scarce and high, but enough of these showed up on "the block" to make business active.

LOOSE LEAF TOBACCO.

Market Closed Firm, With Dif ference in Favor of Seller. The sales of loose leaf tobacco on the floors of the warchouses for the week Hoors of the warehouses for the week closing yesterday, aggregated about 250, too pounds of sun-cured stocks. All the week prices were high and if there were any changes at all they were in favor of the seller. Good sun-cured stock is in active demand at opiside quotations. Yesterday the offerings were mainly of medium grades of leaf, very few wrappers showing up. The highest price obtained was $26 for a large pile of suncired wrappers. Several piles so a round $27. Some good fillers went as high as $11. The tobacco men look for large deliveries next week, and if the precent open weather continues they will not be disappointed.
